PREMIUM SYSTEM.

CASH, WHEN REQUIRED NOTES ARE HOWEVER TAKEN from amount the Insurer in paying his Premium is thus showing the confidence of the Company in its ability to declare Dividends that will eventually CANCEL THE NOTES

How different this is from a Cash Company who exact all Cash under the plea that it is unsafe to grant this indulgence to a policy holder, when he is unable to pay his renewal premium

REMEMBER

That the "OLD MANHATTAN" never assumes or promises Extravagant Dividends to induce insurers to come and insure with them Their Dividends in the past have always been equal to all well managed and first class Companies and they can offer the records of the past as an evidence of the future It never stifles the character of other Companies to accumulate business THE MANHATTAN'S oldest insurers are its best advocates The business of the Company is conducted with

ECONOMY!

This is an evidence of careful management and a promise of Large Dividends in future

From the following table taken from the New York Insurance Reports of 18... it will be seen that our percentage of expenses to receipts are very much less than any Companies enumerated below

Foolish Rumor from the New York Herald.

NEW YORK April 15 —The Herald has a sensation special to the effect that a Radical conspiracy is on foot to extend the term of the President's office to ten years, and strip the Supreme Court of the power to pass upon the constitutionality of the acts of Congress, elect Grant in the doubtful States by the bayonet, and cause unlimited inflation of the currency by the national banks

Disaster on the Erie Railroad

CHICAGO April 16 We have this morning the details of the accident on the Erie Railroad. The disaster happened to the night train from Buffalo to New York, about 3 o clock yesterday morning. The train consisted of the engine baggage 4 passenger and 3 sleeping cars containing a number of railroad freight agents. At Carr's Rock fifteen miles west of Port Jervis, the train while running at the usual rate of speed along the embankment seventy five or one hundred feet high, it is supposed a rail broke and the last five cars were precipitated down the steep descent rolling over and over upon jagged rocks to the bottom. The last car took fire and thirteen passengers were burned to death. All the cars thrown over the cliff which borders the Delaware river were passenger cars. It was intensely dark when the train reached the point of the bluff. Two cars were found to be in the river and one was on fire. There were over two hundred passengers on the train. Six bodies were recovered last night but no list has been received of the killed and wounded. The accident is one of the most terrible in the annals of railroading in America.

The Herald's special from Barcelona reports the entire community of Spain as agitated by revolutionary schemes. Martial law has been proclaimed by royal order in the province of Catalonia.

The Herald's special says: The national troops in Venezuela have gained a decisive victory but there is still a dead lock in congress. The finances are very low. President Falcon is contracting with wealthy Jews for a loan.

IMPORTANT WORK.—The Record, of Wednesday says

Mr A J Dufur is Chairman of the Committee appointed by the Agricultural Society to collect facts and statistics relative to the agricultural, mechanical and mineral resources of Oregon, and have the same published for general circulation at the East, with a view to inducing emigration. He was yesterday in Salem on business connected with this matter, and reports that the work of the Committee is favorably progressing. We have no doubt any work undertaken by Mr. Dufur and the other gentlemen named, will be well performed as they are all men of intelligence, well informed as to facts, and able to form a report that will fully sustain and show forth the resources of the State. The Committee consists of Messrs. Dufur, Minto, Denthit, Moores, Herman, Condon and Applegate. The Committee have ascertained that the title to the 90,000 acres of land appropriated by Congress for an Agricultural College can be secured by a compliance with the terms of the donation by July 23, 1861.

D Arcy McGee, who has just been assassinated in Ottawa, was an Irishman by birth, and at the time of the Native American riots in the East, was the editor of the Boston Pilot. He afterwards went to Dublin and became one of the editors of the Nation, was mixed up in the troubles of 1848, and had to leave the country. Returning to the United States, he published an Irish paper in New York—the Nation; and afterwards one called the American Celt. He finally went to Canada, some twelve years ago. Here from a violent Irish patriot, he became a violent supporter of the English Government and a bitter hater of republicanism and was rewarded with high office, having been several times a member of the Ministry. He has denounced the Fenians in the most unmeasured terms, and it is not at all improbable that he has met his death at the hands of a fellow countryman. McGee was a man of decided talents, but of no principle. In early life he wrote some very fine patriotic poetry, in which he invoked all manner of cursing on his own head should he ever forsake the cause of his native land —S F Times

HISTORY —History often shows us the fate of a monarchy and of nations suspended on some obscure individual, or a mere accident, or a moment of time. When Louis the XVI, and the royal family fled from Paris to escape the rigor of the Revolution and save their lives, they were discovered when within an hour or two of safety, by one Drouet, the son of an obscure village postmaster, who discovered the King by the resemblance his features bore to his portrait on the assignats. His sauntering idly, one evening, before the door of a cottage, decided the fate of a monarchy and the sacrifice of a whole family of royal fugitives. "Never did the fate of so many men and so many ideas depend plainly on a chance." Had this man's face been but turned another way, France would not have had anarchy, nor have waded through her own blood in massacres and murders, to settle down at last in an empire where liberty was drowned in blood, or trampled out under the iron heels of a Napoleonic dynasty.

A married woman in Kan—, who recently eloped with a physician, left the following unique note for her husband "Dear Hubby You're played out I like Dr —— so well that I prefer going with him rather than stay with you you good-for-nothing degenerate cuss It's none of your business where we've gone to It won't do you a bit of good to follow us for I wouldn't live another day with you to save your life You made a mistake in thinking I loved you I never did I married you for convenience sake I take the baby along and I'll take care of it You can sue for a divorce or get married as soon as you please The woman who gets you next will have a healthy old prize Good bye Be virtuous and you'll be happy Your LATE WIFE"

The majority of those who succeed in life do not do so by any single stroke or sudden leap into a desired position. It is by small savings and over work that gains, in time as well as money, are made. The Saturday Review says In literature as at the bar, or indeed, in any vocation, it is constancy which insures success and good work and constancy is nowhere so well tested as by preserving utilization of margins, alike of time and of all the other material productions. It is the extra half hour a day which wins—the half hour which the student devotes to gathering up the fragments that are left, to noting down the stray unusual facts, to placing them under old heads which may comprehend them, to summing up the proceedings of the day, and to fixing in his mind as nearly as may be, its most faithful and suggestive products.

THE KUKLUX DEMOCRACY —The Nashville, Tennessee, Press and Times says that the dastardly villainous and secret conclave known as the Kuklux Klan are constantly becoming more bold and open "Not a day passes that we do not receive from reliable sources particulars of the most lawless and reprehensible conduct by the members of the Kuklux Klan. We have received from irreproachable authority information of the fact that in Williamson and Maury counties, the teachers of colored schools are constantly threatened with violence if they do not break up their schools and leave the country. Only a day or two ago in the first mentioned county a teacher received an anonymous letter from the Klan declaring that if he continued his school his life should pay the penalty."

"Who steals my purse steals trash," said the great dramatist but the editor of the Fayette (Mo.) Chronicle seems to be of a contrary opinion. In a recent number of his paper he apologizes for the infinitesimal amount of original matter which it contains by explaining that his pocket had been picked of a wallet containing no end of "copy." If the editor was overwhelmed by his loss, what must have been the feelings of the thief?"

More of their Record

The people are asked to restore the Democratic party to power. They are asked to entrust the destinies of the nation to a political organization which was turned out of power for its delinquencies, and which is again clamorous for control. A party which claims the helm of the country should be judged by its former acts and we propose to keep the record of the Democratic party pretty constantly before the people of Oregon during this campaign. The evidences of the recreancy of that political organization are innumerable. On this occasion we desire to call attention to a precious document which many of our readers may have forgotten, viz: A secession manifesto which was issued to the people of Oregon and to the country at large by John Whiteaker the Democratic Governor of Oregon, early in 1861. The sentiments and doctrines of the manifesto were cordially approved and emphatically endorsed by all the Democratic papers in the State and no person connected with the party ever expressed either then or at any subsequent period his dissent from those doctrines. We shall now see what the document was which so entirely met the approbation of the "Democratic" party of Oregon, and which was specially commended by all its organs.

When the authority of the Constitution and the integrity of the Union were assailed in 1861 the patriotic citizens of Oregon held Union meetings in all parts of the State for the purpose of proclaiming their unalterable devotion to the Government and the flag. It was a time when the Union cause needed the support of every citizen and when our people would have been unworthy to share the common heritage of their countrymen had they not declared that their sympathies were with those who were battling for the majesty of the Constitution against the traitorous enemies of the Republic. At this time the Democratic Governor of Oregon published an address denouncing the Union meetings as calculated to get up strife and divisions among the people! And he went on to assume that if these Union demonstrations that [illegible] ing in the State were not speedily stopped, there was danger that a terrible war would be provoked in our midst! Take the following from the first paragraph of his address:

> We involuntarily shudder at the consequences of these domestic disorders, even when they occur in States having nothing to fear from a foreign foe, or the outbreaks of a savage enemy in their midst and on their borders; then in God's name let us avoid them.

That is, the people of Oregon were advised by their Governor to make no manifestations of loyalty to the Government and its flag, to make no pledge of support to the national authorities in their efforts to put down the rebellion and save the country from disintegration and ruin. We were exhorted to avoid all demonstrations of this kind, lest civil strife should thereby be inaugurated in Oregon!

And who were those whom these "Union meetings" were calculated to offend and exasperate? Who were they who would 'get up strife and dissension domestic disorders,' if these loyal demonstrations were not desisted from? Who were the class whom the patriotic, Union loving people of Oregon were to placate by refraining from [illegible] sing their devotion to the flag? Who were they to whom the sight of the national banner, the eloquence of patriotic orators in denunciation of secession and treason and the cheers of the people for the cause of the Union, were so odious? They were Governor Whiteaker and the Democratic party. These were the men to whom the "Union meetings" were so distasteful, and who warned Union men to desist from holding them if they would avoid civil war in Oregon!

After very distinctly intimating that President Lincoln would get no troops from Oregon to aid in carrying on the "wicked and unnatural war upon the South;" after declaring that there was "no good reason why we should be precipitated into civil discord,—which was as much as to say that if our Governor was called on for troops to aid in quelling the rebellion, he would decline to furnish them as other Democratic Governors had done, after fully justifying the seceders by saying that "secession is only another name for revolution," that all admit the right of revolution for good cause" and that he was very sure "that the seceded States thought they had good cause, and felt justified before God and man in their undertaking;" after misrepresenting the views and purposes of President Lincoln with the evident design of showing that the rebel States had abundant provocation for what they had done and of justifying them in their rebellion against the Government, this Democratic Governor of Oregon proceeds to disclose the Democratic policy as follows:

> I would say to the President, whose policy is war, and whose Cabinet is a unit with him on that question: Defend the Federal Capital and every other place or property belonging to the General Government which is not situated in a seceded State. Protect and defend every State and place still loyal to the Union against any attempt on the part of the seceders, and, if need be, employ the whole resources of the country to accomplish it.

Thus in this official proclamation of the Governor of Oregon and recognized leader of the Democratic party, a distinct demand was made that the Union should be given up and all the rights of the General Government in the seceded States surrendered. The creed of the Democratic disunion party which was thus officially made known at the beginning of the rebellion was the "speedy acknowledgement of the right of the South to form a Government of their own, and the unconditional surrender of all the public property within their limits." Of this Democratic programme the Eugene Herald, the home organ of Gov. Whiteaker, said:

> The position of Gov. Whiteaker is impregnable. If the Union is preserved—by the Lincoln Administration or after the people have hurled him and his advisers to the depths of contumely and scorn—it will be by just concessions and compromise. Civil war, with its horrors too loathsome to mention, can never repair the breach in the affections of the American people.

The design of Gov. Whiteaker in issuing this address was to show the rebel allies of the Democratic party in a sort of official way that the people of Oregon were opposed to the war policy and the suppression of the rebellion against the Constitutional authority of the Government. Gov. Whiteaker is to-day one of the leaders of the Democratic party in Oregon, and no member of the party dares at this moment to denounce the doctrines he uttered in 1861 and 1862. No man in the party has ever censured him for his utterances at that time and not one of them will do it now. In 1862 while his record was [illegible] the gave him the [illegible] nominee for [illegible] for United States Senator. On the principles laid down by Gov. Whiteaker the Democratic party conducted the political campaigns of 1862 and 1864 in this State, and no member of the party will now condemn the principles they asserted then. Yet this party claims to be the only Union party of the country, and [illegible] Smith [illegible] its Governors [illegible]

It should be remembered that the attempt during the war of 1812 to carry the New England States out of the Union was opposed by Democrats all over the Union.—Herald.

There was no attempt in 1812 [illegible] to carry the New England [illegible] out of the Union, but it should be [illegible] that the attempt [illegible] 1861 [illegible] States out of the Union was [illegible] a [illegible] and favored by [illegible] the Union.

We have received a note by mail stating that ex-Senator Nesmith will address the people of [illegible] county on political topics on the [illegible] of May. No name appears with the note and [illegible] we know not whether it emanates from any responsible authority.

A May Day festival will be given at Oakland, Douglas county, by the Sunday School at that place.

[illegible] GROUND—FIRST SPIKE. The 16th day of April, 1868, was a gala day in this city—a day [illegible] long remembered by at least all who partic[illegible] in, or witnessed the ceremonies of breaking ground for the Oregon Central Railroad, East side. At an early hour large crowds of people began to gather, [illegible] city Vancouver, Oregon City, the towns above, and the adjoining country gathered upon the principal streets to await the forming of the procession, which was to take place at 10 A. M. Flags were flying from the several [illegible] houses and most of the principal buildings of the city. The piazzas of the hotels and many of the [illegible], supported crowds of spectators of the animated scene in the streets below. Everywhere were people on foot, on horseback and in carriages, hurrying hither and thither, in active preparation for the coming celebration. Never except perhaps on our great National Anniversaries has Portland witnessed a more general turn-out of people, or more animated spectacles than were to be seen all along Front and First streets yesterday morning.

THE PROCESSION

At about 11 o'clock the elements of the procession having assembled the Marshals began to form the column on First street, the right resting on Stark. At a few minutes past eleven the procession moved up First street, led by the Aurora Band, followed by the Washington Guard, the Fenian Guard, the Mayor and members of the Council of the City of Portland, the Chaplain, Orator of the Day, the President and Directors of the Oregon Central Railroad Co., the Chief Engineer and corps of employees constituting the First Division. In this Division was borne the shovel to be presented by [illegible] M. Smith to the President of the Railroad Co. and to be used in breaking ground. The Second Division consisted of the First U. S. Cavalry Band, the delegations [illegible] from the Vancouver Fire Department and the Portland Fire Department. The Third Division consisted of citizens on foot, on horseback and in carriages. The procession after marching through the principal streets, proceeded to the ferry, and crossing as rapidly as the two commodious boats could carry the people re[illegible] on the east side of the river and marched to the place selected for breaking ground. Long before the [illegible] moved, vast crowds of people flocked to the [illegible] and crowded over in advance to make sure of being [illegible] when the ceremonies should begin.

THE GROUNDS

The place selected for breaking ground was in an open field about three-fourths of a mile from the ferry landing at East Portland, and perhaps five hundred yards from the east bank of the river. Just on the right of the surveyed line of the railroad a stand had been erected for the [illegible] Directors and others who were to participate in the [illegible]. Opposite this was a shed containing tiers of seats for ladies. On the west and directly across the line of the road, were several tiers of seats for spectators—the three forming a sort of [illegible] square opening to the eastward and looking directly out upon that part of the road where the workmen were to begin the grading as soon as the signal should be given that ground was [illegible]. Just on the right of the speaker's stand in the center of the road stood a flagstaff from which floated the National banner. The preparations for seating the [illegible] proved to be far too limited, not more than one tenth of those present being able to get seats. A little way to the eastward were piles of wheelbarrow material [illegible] to be put together, shovels, picks and various other implements to be used in the work of construction, and farther along on either side of the marked lines of grade, stood long rows of Chinamen with shovels in hand.

THE CEREMONIES

The [illegible]mblage, numbering not less than five thousand people, of whom a very large number were ladies, having gathered about the stand, Dr. Loryea came forward and announced that the ceremonies would be opened with prayer by the chaplain of the day, Rev. A. [illegible] Waller. The chaplain arose and addressed the throne of grace with an impressive petition for the favor of God upon the work now about to be undertaken.

PRESENTATION OF THE SHOVEL

After music by one of the bands, the presentation to the President of the Oregon Central Railroad Co. of an [illegible] made shovel, was announced. This shovel bears [illegible] a beautiful silver plate attached to the front of the [illegible], with the following inscription:

[illegible] ted by Sam'l M. Smith to the Oregon Central R. R. and Portland, April 16th, 1868. Ground broken with this shovel for the first railroad in the State.

PRESENTATION ADDRESS BY HON. J. H. MITCHELL

Mr. President of the Oregon Central Railroad Company, ladies and gentlemen: I have been selected upon this occasion to present in the name and on behalf of [illegible] M. Smith, Esq., one of the worthy pioneers of the trade of the city of Portland, to the Oregon Central [illegible] Company, this substantial and magnificent piece of workmanship which I now hold in my hand, and which is truly and emphatically in the various materials [illegible] which it is constructed, a most fitting emblem of the valuable and unfailing resources of the State of Oregon. The blade of this essentially home production, this [illegible] shovel, beaten out as it is from the [illegible] ore taken from the prolific mines of Oswego—the Pittsburg of Oregon—where lies imbedded this valuable metal in [illegible] quantities and of most fabulous richness, is a [illegible] representative of this important class of our mineral wealth. The handle, made from an Oregon maple, [illegible] that material interest which includes all the [illegible] resources of trade and commerce that can and must [illegible] spring from the most magnificent forests with which our State abounds. The beautiful silver plate that adorns the handle, and which bears upon its face the inscription of the donor, was carved out of the precious [illegible] taken from the mountains of Santiam within this State, and it serves to remind us that our mineral resources are not confined to the baser metals, but that [illegible] in Oregon, as well as elsewhere upon the golden [illegible] of the Pacific, the honest miner finds a full recompense for his hours of patient toil. The handle also you will observe has been seasoned with oil manufactured by an Oregon mill from the raw material grown upon an Oregon farm by an Oregon farmer, while the [illegible] and mechanism displayed in its construction are but a just tribute to the mechanical skill and the [illegible] industry of the people of our State.

And, Mr President, in acting upon this occasion as the medium through whom this representative of the material resources of our State is conveyed to you, and to the [illegible] which you represent, as a tribute of respect and [illegible] from one of the citizens of Oregon, for the [illegible] energy and perseverance which have [illegible] you to enter this day upon the practical work of the great enterprise for which you were incorporated, it may not be inappropriate in me to refer very briefly to the cause of our assembling together at this time. The [illegible] of our presence here to-day is one of profound [illegible] to the people of Oregon. We are here for the [illegible] of celebrating the commencement of a new era in the history of her people. For the purpose of witnessing the laying of one of the great corner stones of that [illegible] prosperity, influence, civilization and empire that shall soon characterize our State as a bright particular star in the great family of States for the purpose [illegible] a work which under your fostering [illegible] management and the well-known energy and financial ability of the contractors repre[illegible] here to-day in part by such men as Flint, Peabody & Co., of Boston and California, calling to their aid, as they have, the best among the Civil Engineer Corps of the Pacific coast, and in fact of the nation, promises [illegible] to [illegible] rapidly on to successful completion. And a work, which when completed will be the great [illegible] artery of our young and noble State, and along which, [illegible] by the irresistible and energizing power of [illegible], will bound and rebound the great vitalizing current of population, wealth, trade, internal commerce, [illegible] that tends to make up and work out a glorious [illegible] for the worthy pioneers of our adopted State. We [illegible] here to celebrate the inauguration in Oregon of that [illegible] of internal public improvements which in the [illegible] Western and Middle States, has brought the vast [illegible] of these extensive regions into a close commun[illegible] of trade, interest and sympathy, and which has bound [illegible] as with bands of fire and ligaments of [illegible], and to which more than to any other system of [illegible] improvements are the United States to-day in[illegible] for their unparalleled growth in material wealth, [illegible] and power. And therefore it is not strange [illegible] an event such as this should call from their homes [illegible], their farms, their workshops, their offices, [illegible] and their sitting rooms, this vast concourse [illegible] who have come hither to approve by their [illegible] and to witness the commencement of a work [illegible] must tell so deeply and so materially upon the fu[illegible] not only of Oregon as a State, but also upon the individual interests of her people. And it is an oc[illegible] upon which the hardy pioneers, especially those who first braved the dangers but a few years ago of these Western wilds, who first reared the standard of civiliza[illegible] along the picturesque banks of our beautiful and far [illegible] Willamette, and planted the first seeds of our [illegible] greatness and future glory, as a people, can re[illegible] with exceeding great joy as they look back over the conflicts and trials of the past and now find all rational [illegible] in a new era of prosperity and greatness that [illegible] inevitably and at no distant day make Oregon as a State what her agricultural, mineral and manufacturing [illegible] as well as the characteristic energy and go[illegible] of her people justly entitle her to—second to none West of the Rocky Mountains.

This, to some, may seem an extravagant prediction, but it is one, the truth of which will be [illegible] during the lives of many of those I now address. The sound of the shovel of to-day, which is [illegible] by the first breaking of ground by the Oregon [illegible] Railroad Company, is but the legitimate echo of the [illegible] sounds similar to sounds that are to-day reverberating along the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains and [illegible] the eastern and western slopes, and amid the Al[illegible] of the Sierras, and which shall continue to wake up the stillness of those solitudes until from Portland, Maine, to Portland, Oregon, shall be one unbroken line of railway, and along which shall move in [illegible] phalanx the population and wealth of this mighty [illegible] but not only of this continent, but of the [illegible] of the world, and the islands of the sea. The Great Union Pacific, which is now gradually but surely [illegible] its way across our land like a huge serpent with a tongue of fire mocking at every opposition, when [illegible], as soon it will be, and of which the road this day begun is but a legitimate extension, will be the great [illegible] highway of nations, along which shall pour its [illegible] uninterrupted current the trade of Europe, Asia and [illegible], as it passes on like a swift winged messenger [illegible] to the laws of its being, to circum-travel the [illegible] nations of men. And who is there, I inquire, in this vast audience, representing as it does every department of industry and trade, after contemplating the [illegible] of our country, the unmistakable and true [illegible] signs of the present, can remain incredulous either as to the speedy completion of the work this day [illegible], or the influence and power which when completed it will have upon the prosperity of this people in [illegible] our resources and building up our State to [illegible] its true character and legitimate propor[illegible]. The revolutions wrought by the age of steam, and by the irresistible will and energizing power of the American people are so really fabulous in their [illegible] that were they not stamped in indelible and [illegible] characters upon the pages of American history, [illegible] still more comprehensive [illegible] truth upon the very face of the [illegible] and mountains [illegible] their history would [illegible] the brain of a [illegible] perfected a plan [illegible] posed the [illegible] as a reason [illegible] the two extremes [illegible] he had [illegible] wondays [illegible] gray dusts of coming time [illegible] and two generations shall [illegible] [illegible] this shall be with [illegible] a few hours [illegible] the revolution would have been regarded even by that great

Mr. Mitchell's address was frequently interrupted by loud and prolonged applause.

PRESIDENT [illegible] REPLY

Mr. Mitchell: In accepting for the Oregon Central Railroad Company the very neat and appropriate present of Mr. Smith [illegible] personal esteem [illegible] sympathy with the purposes and objects of this enterprise, which he entertains in common with all the people of the State.

In the use of this gift at this time we feel that not only the commencement of a great work, fraught with issues of momentous import to our young and rapidly growing State, but the dawning of a new era in the history of Oregon, that all here assembled will revert to in after days as the time when the garb [illegible] habits and modes of thought of the frontiersmen were cast aside and we [illegible] the race for political and commercial greatness with our sister communities in this great Nation.

And the first spadeful of earth removed we see an earnest of a germ of [illegible] which shall continue to grow and expand until the cities of this beautiful and wide [illegible] wealth and population [illegible] and mountains and [illegible] the [illegible] resources which as yet are scarcely appreciated. We feel that we can assure you that the work so auspiciously commenced to-day will only cease when the growing granaries of our farmers will [illegible] the markets of the world [illegible] the work of founding agricultural and commercial empire.

In conclusion, and on behalf of the company, I thank you.

BREAKING GROUND

President [illegible] then descended from the platform [illegible] the first stake [illegible] and the acclamations [illegible] threw out the first sod [illegible] the Oregon Central Railroad. This was followed by [illegible] and hearty cheers [illegible] by the Cavalry Band.

COMMENCEMENT OF THE GRADING

The [illegible] of the people [illegible] when the [illegible] the grading [illegible] This was followed by [illegible] crowd to the [illegible] deep personal interest [illegible] joined in the work. Among the latter were a considerable number of ladies who [illegible] shared in the general enthusiasm of the hour. There were hundreds who perhaps never [illegible] years that they threw out dirt at the inauguration of the Oregon Central Railroad. In a few minutes after most of the people had retired to the stand Judge Upton was announced, and as he came forward, was greeted with cheers.

[illegible] W. W. UPTON'S ADDRESS

Ladies and Gentlemen: We have met to unite in ceremonies connected with events of the greatest importance to the citizens of Oregon. These ceremonies inaugurate a work of vast interest to us as a people and to our State. The great line of railroad that sooner or later must connect Oregon with the Atlantic States and [illegible] treasures of produce from the Willamette valley and our other rich valleys to the world's market [illegible] equivalent can not be [illegible] it is a work of time, labor and capital. There must be a beginning, and the day that begins it is not altogether a day of ceremonies, not altogether an idle day. These ceremonies signalize the commencement of that work.

This large concourse of people is here to signify public approbation of the effort, and to signify their willingness to put their shoulders to the wheel, and to contribute material aid [illegible] daring enterprise.

The people of Oregon are [illegible] alive to the great interest we have in railroad communication with the rest of the world. The recent action of the city of Portland in favor of railroad communication shows the feeling on the subject in this city, and [illegible] by the people of Portland is but an index of the feeling that pervades the State. We [illegible] have any fears of too many railroads or too much railroad.

Although railroads [illegible] half a century [illegible] had any [illegible] understanding of the [illegible] that roll population [illegible] wealth [illegible] make the West a part of the East [illegible] property with the West.

It is only [illegible] that this matter has been at all understood [illegible] learned [illegible] [illegible] arteries of trade [illegible] [illegible]

One of the most astonishing facts developed in modern times is the cheapness at which these great lines of railroads can transport [illegible] that a full [illegible] railroad [illegible] [illegible] cargo a thousand miles [illegible] was it that [illegible] the value of improved [illegible] the Western States from an average [illegible] age of fifty [illegible]

Railroad men [illegible] that they could carry flour [illegible] New York city [illegible] twenty five cents per barrel [illegible] products at similar rates [illegible] great lines of railroad [illegible] field in Illinois [illegible] a grain field a few miles from New York city. The grain fields of the West commenced [illegible] the value of Eastern farms. The farms [illegible] the railroads [illegible] farms. They developed each other and reaped [illegible] advantages.

The results of energy and competition in railroads on their routes from the Atlantic to the Mississippi has astonished all parties [illegible] many miles of railroad could be paid for [illegible] real estate within that time in one of those [illegible] principally by the construction of railroads.

This increase [illegible] in Illinois alone is sufficient to build and equip a line of railroad reaching twice around the earth. The same addition per acre to the value of the available lands in the Willamette valley would reach the sum of $1 [illegible] And yet there are some men who have not quite done with the [illegible]

Will a railroad up the Willamette [illegible]

In making estimates some men leave the rise of real estate out of the [illegible] [illegible] reference is made to farming lands [illegible] value of the town [illegible]

[illegible]

While [illegible] [illegible] of the labor of [illegible] bones and sinews are made [illegible] beef and bread, and who [illegible] form [illegible] population will [illegible] Cascades [illegible] Willamette [illegible] Pacific or the Union Pacific [illegible] still keep pace with the [illegible] whistle and the jar of the iron.

Railroading [illegible] [illegible] It drives all the [illegible] great farms [illegible] the fences and takes the [illegible] It sets up stakes at the [illegible] wire. It gives the [illegible] the five and six rail fences [illegible]

When the great [illegible] work of [illegible] on the Atlantic [illegible] [illegible] They know that a railroad will pay if everybody [illegible] was in all going across [illegible] Everybody will [illegible] travel [illegible] They will [illegible] in the cars.

They know that their [illegible] heavy freights [illegible] and then everybody will travel. They know that they can carry grain from here to New York for [illegible] three or four times what it [illegible] the grain and that is [illegible] compel them to do it at that rate. But if there is [illegible] fear of the result.

There is a thing worth [illegible] worth carrying long distances [illegible] persons here to-day who [illegible] New York [illegible] the East that the East will [illegible] Oregon [illegible] freight [illegible] valuable [illegible] active prosperity [illegible] State will [illegible]

[illegible] railroad [illegible] I think I [illegible] we are not afraid of foreign capital. We want them to [illegible] all their money in here if they will [illegible] and make themselves at home [illegible] the time the investment is made [illegible] on the way they will be [illegible] and choose it as their own. [illegible] heartily.

Judge Upton was followed by Hon. J. N. Dolph, who was frequently [illegible] applauded.

HON. J. N. DOLPH'S ADDRESS

Mr. President: [illegible] This is a great day in the history of [illegible] It was a great day in the history of the Territory of Oregon when the claims of Great Britain [illegible] stars and stripes [illegible] nationality—floated [illegible] the western wild [illegible] United States extended over them the protecting aegis of her laws.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fevers, Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water. Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels.
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL and [illegible] in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant, but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.
SOLD EVERYWHERE.

The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers [illegible] every day [illegible] increasing the number of those who by counterfeiting the [illegible] of his mark seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. EFFECT OF IMPEACHMENT AT THE SOUTH.—Col Forney reports the following remarks recently made to him by a distinguished Southerner, a native of Georgia

The removal of Andrew Johnson would be lifting from the southern people a greater load than any under which they have ever suffered We are like men struggling with a fiend our steps are watched, our words are noted, our lives threatened, our fields plundered, our best men slandered, our great improvements retarded, our friends kept away, our brethren driven off all because Andrew Johnson pardons, pays and pushes on our enemies We shall make Georgia a Republican State by a tremendous vote But no tongue can tell what we had to endure to accomplish it and yet we are better off than our brethren of Mississippi, Texas and Louisiana In the first the reign of terror is more severe than it ever was during the rebellion, while Gen Hancock excited to his bad work by Andrew Johnson refuses to arrest it

Give us a Republican in the presidential chair and we shall require nothing from Congress. Millions will be immediately saved to the public treasury and there will be an instant submission on the part of the public enemies All that is needed to make the South bloom like a garden, is to notify the emigrant and the capitalist that they will be protected by the laws I belonged to the democratic party in its best days, voted for James Buchanan in 1856, and for John C Breckinridge in 1860; but when I realized that the overthrow of the Democratic party was simply to prepare the way for the rebellion, I took my stand, and now, regretting the delusion under which I labored, I am resolved to do all I can to repair my mistake

The situation of Kentucky is best described by the Chairman of the Republican State Convention, which met at Frankfort on the 27th of February, Colonel John A Prall, a native Kentuckian and an officer in the Union army He said:

The strange anomaly presented by the condition of political affairs in Kentucky stands without a parallel in history A State adhering to the Union has committed the administration of its affairs and the control of its destinies into the hands of those who hate and execrate the national Government, of which she forms a part The archives of the Commonwealth are given over into their hands The flags which now decorate this hall, and which have been born aloft amid the storms of battle by our heroic sons, and at last throught back in triumph to the Capital, torn and perforated by the bullets of the enemy and crimsoned with the blood of patriots—all are yielded up to the custody of those who would trample these glorious ensigns of our nationality under their feet And in the party which now rules in Kentucky the highest mark of distinction is to have been prominent in efforts to destroy the Government they now seek to administer and control

An incident recently occurred at Yale which goes very far to establish as a fact that "the world moves" A Yale alumnus of twenty years' standing recently returned, after a long absence, to visit his alma mater, and was very courteously received and "shown round" by Prof [illegible]. After having exhibited to him a part of the modern improvements, the Professor said to him: You have now seen, I believe, all that is new in the instruction, except the gymnasium. Come, let's go up there, and I will roll a string of ten pins with you." "What, sir!" exclaimed the guest, starting back in real or simulated astonishment. "Why," exclaimed the Professor, "we have a fine alley in our gymnasium, and I would like to go there and roll a string of ten-pins with you." "Ten-pins!" cried the alumnus, with a gleam of malicious fun in his eyes, "why, sir, I was expelled from the college for rolling ten-pins!"

The pother over the constitution which so frequently resounds through the columns of our journals, betrays betimes so much ignorance of the instrument, that it reminds us of a scene that recently transpired between two travelers in a railway car, who were engaged in a warm political discussion Of course, the constitution was early and eagerly invoked by both disputants One of them, whipping out of his vest pocket a miniature edition of the document about three inches by two—tendered it to his opponent, remarking "Please to point out the clause on which you rely." The other starting back, exclaimed, in unaffected tones of mingled indignation and contempt, "Do you pretend that that little primer is that constitution? Why, the constitution of the United States is as big as a great bible.—New York Sun.

There is a lively matrimonial business in Worcester, Massachusetts Four hundred and seventy-eight marriages took place in that city, last year. One blushing bride had reached the age of seventy three years; but three others were on the pinafore side of sixteen There was also a resolute young woman who entered boldly upon her third connubial voyage at the age of twenty-two A damsel of eighteen likewise flouted "Mrs. Grundy" by wedding a swain of fifty-five

Chicago now ranks, by official figures, as the fifth city in the Union in respect to the magnitude of commercial transactions her sales amounting last year to $342,182,708 much more than those of any city west of Philadelphia, except New Orleans Illinois stands as the fourth State in the Union by the number of miles of railroad, Massachusetts exceeding her by some five hundred miles, and Ohio by a much smaller amount

A Gentleman having got out of all patience with one of his servants, called him in, and after giving him a sound scolding, wound up with the stereotyped phrase, "we must part" The servant stood scratching his head for a moment, and then said, with a look of much concern, "Soror, but if we must, may I make so bold as to ask where yer Honor's going?" The [illegible] got another trial

An eminent physician, being invited to a dinner party, arrived at the house of his host at a somewhat earlier hour than accordingly strolled out of the house into a churchyard near by. When dinner was announced the doctor was absent, and an inquiry was made as to where he was, "Oh," said one of the guests who had seen him in the churchyard, "he is paying a visit to some of his old patients."

A seven-year-old boy was lately heard to use profane language On being reproved by his parents and directed to ask God's forgiveness, he retired to his room and was overheard to say "Oh, God, I am very sorry I said that naughty word, and wont say so any more but please hurry and make me grow up to be a man, and then I can swear as much as I want to, like pa, and nobody will notice it."

If a young lady snubs you, young man, don't snub in return, for that would be imitating her own bad manners Keep your temper and your own self-respect Only don't give her a second opportunity The snubbing business don't pay except against those who do the snubbing

Thirty-five thousand British troops have been landed in Abyssinia Most of them are natives of Asia, and never saw and never will see, that tight little island that is known as Great Britain Now as in former times, the British fight their foreign battles by the hands of foreigners

PRECEPT AND PRACTICE.—Beggar-woman. "Please, sir, give me a penny to keep me from starving"

Gent—"Can't stop—in a great hurry I've got to make a speech at the Society for the Relief of the Destitute

THE DISTINCTION.—The Springfield (Mass) Republican says the way soldiers divide between the two parties in New Hampshire will serve to point a moral Every volunteer is a Republican, and nearly every conscript a Democrat.

A smart fellow in Worcester has discovered a plan to make two hodfulls of coal go as far as four He doubles the size of the hod The invention is not patented

Lakes are so clear in Minnesota that the inhabitants claim that with a telescope one can see them making tea in China

In the reign of James I, of tobacco hating notoriety the boys of a school acquired the habit of smoking and indulged it night and day using the most ingenious expedients to conceal the vice from their master till one luckless evening, when the imps were huddled together round the fire of their dormitory involving [illegible] in burst the master and stood in awful dignity before them

"How now," quoth the dominie to the first lad "how dare you be smoking tobacco?"

"Sir," said the boy "I am subject to headaches, and a pipe takes off the pain"

"And you? and you? and you?" inquired the pedagogue, questioning every boy in his turn

One had a raging tooth, another a colic, the third a cough, in short they all had something

"Now, sir," cried the doctor to the last boy "what disorder do you smoke for?"

Alas! all the excuses were exhausted but the interrogated urchin putting down his pipe after a farewell whiff, and looking up in his master's face, said in a whining hypocritical tone "Sir, I smoke for corns!"

SCOLDING.—If laughter begets fat, it is no less true that scolding is the parent of meagerness Who ever saw a fat termagant? The virago is scraggy scragginess is the badge of all her tribe It would seem that the attrition of a fierce exacting temper gives sharpness to the human frame as inevitably as a gritty grindstone puts a wiry edge on a broad ax Artists understand this fact, and govern themselves accordingly They invariably represent ladies supposed to be given to the rampage as most remarkably high in bone Shrews are thus depicted in comic valentines and all the illustrations of 'curtain lectures' have represented the "rib" of Mr Caudle without a particle of fat Lavater referring to female firebrands, says flatly to their faces that their noses are sharp We have a dim idea that he mentions some exceptional cases of ladies with snub noses who are given to snubbing their husbands, but these form a mild variety and only a small proportion of the genus scold

TRIUMPH OF AMERICAN GENIUS The Secretary of the State of washington has received from Commissioner Beckwith a table carefully calculated and verified from official data at Paris which shows that with all the drawbacks and obstacles which the United States representatives labored under they are "number one" in grand prizes and exceeded every nation except France in general proportion of gold and silver medals and honorable mention, Austria, Prussia and North Germany slightly exceed in their proportion of bronze medals to the number of exhibitors In the general average we are just double the rate of Great Britain and her colonies Taking all things into consideration, this is considered a most marvelous triumph at a competive trial of results of the invention and industrial energies of the American people Yet we were far from being fully or fairly represented

AFRAID TO LEARN.—It is related that Galileo, who invented the telescope with which he observed the satellites of Jupiter, invited a man who was opposed to him to look through it that he might observe Jupiter's moons The man positively refused, saying, 'If I should see them, how could I maintain my opinions, which I have advanced against your philosophy?" This is the case with many They will not hear it, for fear that the arguments which they have framed will be destroyed, and they may be obliged to give up their vicious indulgences

An intended bride, for some time a school teacher in Hudson City, met with a serious disappointment Everything was ready for the marriage, and the bride had appeared clothed in her wedding garments when a note arrived from her betrothed, who is a carpenter doing business on Montgomery street, stating that, as he had a wife and four children in Connecticut, he was afraid to venture on his new contract the New Jersey laws being very severe on any delinquency in the arrangements existing preparatory to the signing of the bond

The Lynchburg Virginian dislikes the Peabody educational scheme, and says "Better let our children go uneducated and live in the woods communing there with nature and with nature's God, than to accept of instruction in schools where only New England politics, philosophy and religion, are to substitute in any measure the traditions of our good old State"

It is one hundred and ninety-five years since the first white men were ever in the neighborhood of Burlington, Iowa In 1673 Father Marquette, a Jesuit missionary, and Joliet, a citizen of Quebec, passed down the river, landing near the mouth of the Des Moines River

A new instrument in connection with the method of transmitting messages by the telegraph has lately been invented whereby the rapidity of telegraphing is greatly increased It is claimed that by the new system between four and five thousand words may be transmitted per hour

Why is a thief your only true philosopher? Because he regards everything from an abstract point of view, is opened to all notions of protection, and is open to conviction

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in [illegible] complaints The [illegible] of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart nervous headache vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which as a sex they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

MANUFACTURERS OF
SHIPLEY'S PATENT PACIFIC
TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

OF WHICH THE ABOVE IS AN ILLUSTRATION, has FOUR SETS OF BUCKETS AND USES THREE-FOURTHS OF THE WATER TWICE

The old high priced unequalled and unrivalled wheel has been PLATED OUT by a fair working trial made by Mr H Kelly at his saw mill and the public can see what he says as to the capacity of the two wheels in the following testimonial over his own signature

Mr H W SHIPLEY Sir In reply to your inquiry as to how I like your Pacific Turbine Wheel I have to say that I have used one over shot and three Leffel wheels—10 13 and 15 inch diameters When I substituted your 15 inch wheel for the 13 inch Leffel wheel though unfinished it worked the machinery like a top using 52 ft of water per minute more than the 13 inch Leffel At your request I subsequently took your wheel out that it might be finished and then I put in a 15 inch Leffel but it gave no better power than yours while it used 62 cubic feet more water per minute After a month I replaced your wheel and am still using it with the most satisfactory results I have subjected it to some severe tests For instance while running the circular saw in a log which squared 15 inches I added the planer with a 9 inch knife cutting from one eighth to one-fourth of an inch depth without in the least slacking the speed After thorough tests of both wheels I am satisfied that your wheel with gates one eighth of an inch open gives as much power as the Leffel with gates one-third open At half gate your wheel gives double the power of the Leffel at half gate At full gate the power of yours exceeds that of the Leffel by from ten to twelve per cent At quarter gate, the Leffel holds no comparison with yours at quarter gate

N B Mr Shipley was not present at either of the trials of his wheel, he being sick at the first and absent from the State at the second trial

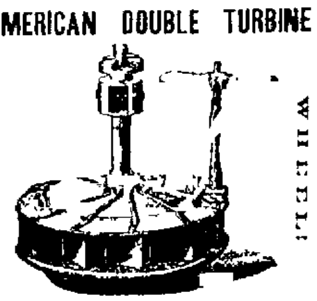
AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE



THESE WHEELS UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world have been fully tested in this coast many being in use at this date driving all kinds of machinery Saw Mills Flour Mills Quartz Mills Woolen Factories &c &c

☞ The following is from the Springfield Republic

Trial of Water Wheels.

Messrs Jonathan Child and Eli A. McCreight, who are about establishing mills and factories at Harper's Ferry Va, wished to procure water wheels and desiring to make a choice of Springfield Wheels, procured a trial between the Leffel Double Turbine and the Welch and Burns Wheel The following report of the Committee shows the result of the trial

SPRINGFIELD, O Oct 11 1867

This is to certify that on the 9th and 10th days of October 1867 I in company with Mr Staley Civil Engineer of Mechanicsburg carefully measured the amount of water used in the test between the 10 inch Leffel Turbine and the 10 inch Welch & Burns Water wheels made by Bechtle Blakeney & Baker made at Weimer's mill near West Milton Miami Co O The contract requiring the tests to be made with ½ gates and ⅔ gates with the same amount of water for each wheel The amount of grinding was superintended by Mr Charles Morgan who will report the results

The amount of water used in the tests, as measured by myself and Mr Staley, is as follows

	C ft per min
At ½ gate the Leffel Wheel used	88 224
Welch & Burns used	88 224
At ⅔ gate the Leffel Wheel used	117 528
Welch & Burns used	117 528

The grinding was continued for one hour each test
WILLIAM BROWN
Civil Engineer
S S STALEY

Having been chosen by both parties to determine the amount of grain ground by each of the above mentioned wheels the result was as follows

The Leffel Wheel at ½ gate ground	236	lbs
The Welch & Burns at ½ gate ground	66½	lbs
The Leffel Wheel at ⅔ gate ground	411½	lbs
The Welch & Burns at ⅔ gate ground	142	lbs
